Businesses “play it forward” at Kids On The Move Corporate Sports Challenge

OREM, UT — June 29, 2017 — Kids On The Move (KOTM) hosted its 12th annual Corporate Sports Challenge on June 16 to raise money for children with developmental delays and disabilities.

Companies from across the valley participated in eight rotations of sports and a service station to compete for the traveling cup trophy. Sports included an extreme inflatable relay race, bubble ball king of the hill, volleyball, rock climbing, kickball, soccer, dodge ball and tug of war. At the service station, players made musical instruments used to teach children about movement and music.

The Eboda team, sponsored by Adobe, won the overall events as well as many of the individual events. Orem City took overall second place and another team from Adobe took third. Their competitors included 13 other teams from companies within the community.

During the lunch program, the Ivie Family spoke to the players about their experience with the different programs at KOTM. Having used resources from the Early Head Start, Early Intervention, and Respite Care Programs, Suzzane Ivie gave a tearful testimony on how KOTM has saved their family.

“Our 12th Annual Corporate Sports Challenge was an amazing success as we highlighted our newest program Respite Care,” said Scott Bean, CEO of Kids On The Move. “Respite allows parents who care 24/7 for disabled children an opportunity to recharge their battery and build their marriage.”
